ON YOUR ENGAGEMENT

Hacienda (noun) : large estate with a dwelling for a home

I am thrilled you are considering the Lazy S Hacienda to host your elopement. We hope our home will be your home for one of the biggest days in your life.

Ranching and entrepreneurship have long been a part of the Slaughter family history, beginning with the Lazy S ranch in 1898. We created Lazy S hacienda as an extension of our family's legacy, and as an opportunity to create a space where couples can come together, families can celebrate, and everyone can share in our families remarkable land for years to come.

This place means so much to me, and I hope that it will come to me, and just as much to you as well.

FAQ's

What is an elopement?

An elopement is a small, intimate wedding ceremony that typically involves only the couple getting married. It can be a simple courthouse wedding or a romantic destination wedding.

What are the benefits of having an elopement?

Microweddings and elopements offer many benefits, including lower costs, less stress, and more flexibility in terms of location and guest count. They also allow couples to focus on what's truly important - their love for each other.

Can we still have a traditional wedding ceremony with an elopement?

Absolutely! You can still have a traditional wedding ceremony with all the elements you desire, such as exchanging vows, wearing a wedding dress, and having a first dance. The main difference is that you'll be celebrating with a smaller group of loved ones.

Do we still need to hire vendors for an elopement?

We understand that planning a wedding can be overwhelming, especially when it comes to coordinating with vendors. That's why we hire and handle all vendor communication as part of these special collections. When you choose our venue, we work directly with our experienced vendors on your behalf, ensuring a seamless and stress-free experience for you. From coordinating timelines to managing logistics, we take care of everything so that you can focus on enjoying your special day.

At the Lazy S Hacienda, we strive to make each Microwedding and Elopement worthy of publication. We use the same upscale vendors that are hired for our large big budget weddings. Our planner meets with you to understand your vision and creates a custom mood board for us to take to all your vendors. You have one contract with us and we handle all the communications, contracts and payments to the vendors.
