Executive Chef Red Bellamy

At Curfew, we believe that dining is an experience that should be shared amongst the group. In order to ensure the premium quality of each dish, all food comes out of the kitchen as soon as it's ready. If you would like your food all at one time, please inform your server prior to ordering and we appreciate your understanding that it might be a slight delay!

In our operation, the culinary and stewarding team are the backbone of the restaurant. We proudly take 2% of all food sales and distribute it amongst all back of house employees! The more you eat, the more they make!
