Historic MARBLE HALL

Marble Hall was built in 1859 and is the oldest surviving building on Garrison Avenue in Fort Smith, Arkansas. It is part of a registered historic preservation block.

Originally Marble Hall was the home to Ethelbert Britton Bright's mercantile store, which sold goods to Fort Smith and Indian Territory residents. Bright received weekly steamboat deliveries up until the outbreak of the Civil War. During the Civil War, Marble Hall was pressed into military service as a field hospital.

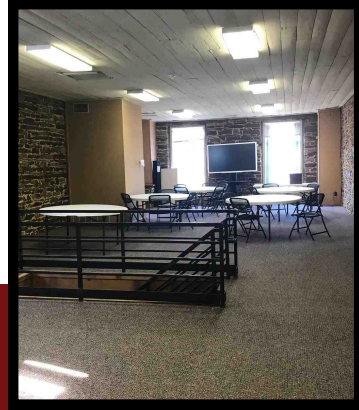

Bright closed his mercantile store and sold Marble Hall after the Civil War. For the next one hundred years, Marble Hall took shape as a number of businesses, including a shooting gallery circa 1900.

Through preservation efforts that were begun by Phil White in 1977 and are now carried on by the Junior League of Fort Smith, Marble Hall has been proudly preserved.

Plenty of CAPACITY

FAQS

(Frequently Asked Questions)

Below are answers to some of the most common questions that Marble Hall receives. Feel free to stop by, e-mail, or phone Marble Hall with additional questions.

Accessibility

Marble Hall was built in 1859 and is part of a registered historic preservation district. While it has been beautifully renovated inside, handicap accessibility is limited. There are not any wheelchair ramps or elevators present. The upstairs area is accessible only via stairs.

Insurance

Event insurance is required since accidents unfortunately happen. With the right event insurance you will be able to get back to enjoying your event and not worrying about coverage. Not sure where to get it? Marble Hall can help guide you through this process.

Security

Late night or weekend event? Alcohol being served? Certain events require certain security. But, getting security should not cause you worry! Marble Hall is happy to assist you in obtaining the right security for your event.
